Stronger Top Line Growth, Estimates Raised

■ Stronger than expected top line growth in 3Q (+21% YoY) boosted by industrial segment. El.En reported better-than-expected sales growth of 21% YoY in 3Q16 to Eu59mn (vs. our estimate of Eu54mn), boosted by a particularly strong trend in the industrial systems segment (+38% YoY), although medical systems also accelerated in the quarter (+12% vs. +10% YoY in 1H16). In more detail, within the medical division, the major contributors to the group's revenues growth were the aesthetic (+13% YoY, still partly driven by a rising contribution from the most innovative products such as Motus AX, Discovery Pico and MedioStar) and medical services (+29% YoY) segments. Within the industrial business unit, sales were mostly boosted by cutting (+57% YoY). In terms of geographical markets, revenues increased by 23% YoY in the Rest of the World area (we believe this benefited from a further rebound in China for cutting) but Italy and Rest of Europe also performed positively (up +19% and +13% YoY in 3Q respectively). Operating margins were slightly ahead of forecasts (EBITDA margin of 12.5% vs. 12.2% expected), as the operating leverage deriving from much higher than projected volumes was somewhat counteracted by a different mix (with a greater share of industrial sales, associated with lower than average profitability, and higher Chinese revenues in particular). 3Q16 EBIT rose by around +7% YoY to Eu6.2mn (a 10.5% margin). Finally, the net cash position went up slightly to Eu72mn at the end of September (from Eu71mn at the end of June, broadly in line): this figure does not include Eu10.5mn of temporary financial investments booked as non-current assets (adj. net cash would be Eu83mn).

■ Confirmed 2016 guidance looks conservative. 2017-18 EPS raised by 8% on average. El.En.'s management reiterated its recently upgraded FY16 guidance, pointing to growth of 10% and 15% in revenues and EBIT respectively. Following stronger 3Q results and a positive outlook on the remainder of the year, we would consider the group's guidance conservative, implying a drop of around 3% YoY in sales in 4Q16, with an EBIT margin of approx. 8%. On the back of faster than expected top line growth, we have raised our 2016-18 sales forecasts by around 7% on average, lifting our aggregate 2017-18 EPS estimates by 8%.

■ OUTPERFORM reiterated; target price increased to Eu24.0. Based on our updated estimates, we have set a new target price of Eu24.0 (from Eu17.5), calculated by averaging a DCF valuation (Eu21.7) and a peer comparison (Eu24.2, based on sector peers' 2016-17 EV/EBITDA), then adding a further Eu1.0 per share to take into account the possible use of cash (currently high at the adjusted level of Eu83mn) for accretive M&A deals (management ruled out the possibility of an extraordinary dividend, but stated that the group would evaluate any attractive M&A opportunities that arise). We reiterate our positive stance on the stock on the back of high visibility on top line trends (given the company's exposure to the structurally growing medical and aesthetic treatment sectors), strong projected earnings momentum and potential further upside related to a successful penetration of the MonaLisa Touch product in the US market (and its effective introduction into new international areas).
